

RPAS INSTRUCTOR SCHOLARSHIPS

ABOUT GFPA

Girls fly programme in Africa (GFPA), a non-profit organization is an information and educational Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Mathematics (STEAM) programme for primary, high school and post-school learners with a focus on aviation and space. The programme includes the use of design thinking, technology, and innovation to shape, empower, enable, and support the next generation of makers and problem solvers in the aviation and space industry in Africa while entrenching the spirit of Ubuntu.

RPAS INSTRUCTOR SKILLS DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

We enable and support the next generation through our mentorship and Scholarship programme. Our scholarships will directly support the professional development of women who intend to follow a career in the STEAM field with a focus on aviation and space. We partner with local universities and aviation organisations to provide excellent candidates who have a passion for aviation and space, with scholarships and learnership opportunities
